Old Westbury Gardens Celebrates Bernadette Castro

Tom Samet, and Tim Gokey

BY LEADER STAFF

It was a beautiful late spring evening. Perfect weather. With a gathering of the most distinguished and stylish leaders of Long Island's north shore society.

The setting was Old Westbury Gardens, the stately mansion of the Phipps family, turned historic museum with its spectacular leafy grounds and gardens.

And the honoree - Bernadette Castro - has been the grande dame and star of Long Island's civic, cultural and political life for decades.

The fabulous evening at Old Westbury Gardens was titled "Fly Me to the Moon" - described by one guest as

Fred and Patty Bauerschmidt Enjoy the Party

"the Soiree of the Century" - and was co-hosted by Bernadette's daughter Terri Keogh and son-in-law Peter Keogh, and good friends Tom Samet and Nathan Wold.

"Bernadette is my great friend," declared Lloyd Harbor Mayor Jean Thatcher. "She is always a strong advocate of worthy local causes. She inspires us all!"

Bernadette became involved with her family's Castro Convertible furniture business at a very early age. As a 4-year-old child, Castro starred in the iconic television commercials that ran over 40,000 times - with Bernadette opening the signature convertible sofas - earning her the distinction of being the "most televised child" in America.

In the 1960's, Bernadette recorded several hit record singles for Columbia Pictures music subsidiary Colpix Records - including her hit song "His Lips Get in the Way" which made the Billboard Top 100 charts.

She attended the University of Florida, where she earned her Bachelor's and Master's degrees in business and journalism.

In 1994, Bernadette ran for the US Senate, giving longtime US Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan a formidable election.

With the election of her running-mate George Pataki as Governor that year, Bernadette was appointed by Pataki as NYS Parks Commissioner, a cabinet post she held for twelve years.

As Park's Commissioner, she preserved over one million acres of land through acquisition for state parks, donations and conservation easements, including the acquisition and preservation of over 19,000 acres of Sterling Forest - a pristine forest in Orange

County just north of New York City.

Working with Governor Pataki, Bernadette brought the United States Open golf championship to Bethpage State Park in Oyster Bay.

Bernadette is always active to support local charities, including Voices of Change Animal League, New York Presbyterian/Weill Cornell Hospital, the Wildlife Center of Long Island, the New York Landmark's Conservancy, Planting Fields Arboretum, Mercy College, the Catholic Faith Network, and Old Westbury Gardens.

In Florida, she actively supports the Florida Institute of Technology, and the College of Central Florida.

Bernadette also actively supports the Ocala Royal Dames for Cancer Research, and the Fort Lauderdale Royal Dames of Cancer Research - both of which were both founded by Bernadette's late mother, Theresa Castro; And the Columbus Citizens Foundation, which was co-founded by her late father, Bernard Castro.

The scintillating evening also saw Bernadette take the auctioneer's stand, to raise over $250,000 that night to benefit Old Westbury Gardens.

2 Teens Arrested in Bayville "Road Rage" Attacks

BY LEADER STAFF

Two teens - aged 16 and 17 - were arrested Friday afternoon, after they assaulted two drivers in Bayville.

The incidents started in Stehli Beach in Bayville, when the two assailants were tossing garbage and trash onto the ground.

A 38 year old man asked the teens to "Stop Littering" and the teens responded with a rush of profanity, according to police. The teens then assaulted the man with a lacrosse stick and a baseball bat.

The man then tried to drive away, but the agitated teens drove around him and cut him off. They then stopped their car - a 2021 black Mercedes - in the street, and the two jumped out of their car with the baseball bat and lacrosse stick.

The teens then attacked the man's car, slamming on the hood and headlights with the bat, and then coming around to assault the man.

The man backed-up rapidly to escape the teens, and then drove away.

Shortly after this incident, the teens attacked a 25-year-old woman on Bayville Avenue in Bayville.

Teen attacker leaps from a Mercedes in Bayville.

They cut her off and stopped their car in the street, and exited their car.

When the woman tried to drive around the teens' stopped car, they struck her rear window as she tried to get away.

The two teens were arrested by Nassau Police, and charged with second-degree criminal mischief, second- and third-degree menacing, second-degree reckless endangerment, and weapons possession.

Their names have not been released, because of their age.

MAMDANI'S RADICALISM, RACISM AND ANTISEMITISM GIVE BLAKEMAN A REAL SHOT AT GOVERNOR

Another day, another grotesque gesture of antisemitism, anti-white racism or authoritarian radicalism by New York City's Mayor Zohran Mamdani.

Last week it was a plan to seize private apartments and turn them over to "tenants committees." White owners, and minority tenants: Right out of Bolshevik communism.

Then it was a plan to deny "white people" any right to contract with or do business with the city - due, of course, to "structural racism" and "white privilege".

Next it was a plan to re-name the Ed Koch 59th Street Bridge - because the late three-term Mayor who successfully took the city out of bankruptcy and started the effort to combat street crime was, ahem... Jewish.

Or Mamdani's boycott of the Israel Day parade - because, ahem... there are lots of Jews there.

And on and on...

Mamdani is trying to take-over the New York Democratic Party - endorsing anti-Semitic, racist wing-nut radicals to take out Democratic incumbents.

And Governor Kathy Hochul just enables Mamdani with tax hikes and silence in the face of Mamdani's bigotry.

If New York ever was at a crossroads - this is it.

This November, New York gets to elect a new Governor.

Nassau County Executive Bruce Blakeman is the Republican nominee, and is raising good money and barnstorming the state.

By all counts, Blakeman has been an outstanding County Executive - bringing lower taxes and improved public safety to Nassau.

We deserve a serious choice: Let this election begin!

FOR THE LOVE OF OYSTER BAY

To the Editor:

On the week of May 4th, a project dear to my heart came to fruition. Both Friends of the Bay and the North Oyster Bay Baymen's Association worked with the Town of Oyster Bay to restart the clamming industry in our waters. I would like to give credit to Friends of the Bay who worked hard to get this project started. We also want to say thank you to all who have contributed money to this needed project.

I wish to explain to the public how this endeavor works and the benefits to be realized. Hard shelled clams (Mercenaria mercenaria) spawn when the water reaches 50 degrees (usually around May 10th). If you concentrate the water with eggs and sperm by having a large bio-mass of clams in a small area, your odds for sperm and egg meeting increases. I know of two successful man-influenced spawning successes to kick start a boom of shellfish. One was in the 1970's when a leaseholder piled thousands of bushels (chowder clams) in West Harbor Oyster Bay. There was a ten-year period of plenty as a result of this chowder clam transplant.

More recently, the Shinnecock Bay Restoration Project at Stony Brook University accomplished the same result by creating chowder clam sanctuaries in Shinnecock Bay. The project was privately funded. They took a bay that was not productive and turned it into a very viable body of water.

Now why should the average citizen of Oyster Bay care about the quantity of hard clams? First of all, clams are filter feeders and remove excess particles from the water making it a cleaner environment. Secondly, a host of other marine creatures feed on clams making the bay much more diverse region. Fish populations increase and afford more opportunities for recreational angles.

Last but not least is the economic benefit of commercial shell fishing. When the bay is productive there have been occasions when over 100 licenses have been issued. Besides the baymen you have wholesalers and marine mechanics servicing the clam diggers. In the long history of commercial clamming Oyster Bay has been a productive naturally reoccurring resource for its citizens. Let us give thanks to the project to repopulate this harbor. Feel free to contact me.

Your Truly,
Al Samek,
Past President of the North Oyster Bay Baymen's
Association (NOBBA)

ALBANY'S FAILED AGENDA

To the Editor:

Albany is more than five weeks late passing a budget.

Now they're announcing a $268 billion spending plan and calling it "affordability." Give me a break.

Imagine increasing spending 26% in four years and then claiming you're making life more affordable for the same people paying the bills.

That's wrong, irresponsible, incompetent, and yes — corrupt.

New Yorkers are being crushed by taxes, utility bills, housing costs, insurance costs, and everyday expenses. Albany's answer is always the same: spend more, take more, promise more, and pretend taxpayers won't notice.

They couldn't even get the budget done on time. Now they want credit for a budget "deal" that legislative leaders are already disputing.

New York needs leaders who will stop treating taxpayers like an ATM and start making this state affordable again.

We need to fight back against Albany's failed agenda.

Op-Ed: The League of Women Voters Has Lost Its Way

BY STEVE LEVY

I recently read a letter to the editor in Newsday, from Elisa Antonelli, the co-chair for the Issues and Advocacy committee of the League of Women Voters' Huntington chapter, which requires a response.

Ms. Antonelli was posting about the virtues of the League, which "proudly stood behind our banner proclaiming the need for change, (and) respect for our immigrant neighbors..." at a protest outside Hempstead Village Hall criticizing federal officials arresting and deporting criminal illegal aliens.

If ever there was an example of a once-proud and prestigious organization falling far away from its original mission, this is it.

What in the world does the issue of illegal immigration - particularly deporting criminal aliens - have to do with the League of Women Voters, unless, of course, the League was concerned about illegal immigrants improperly casting votes in our elections?

That would be a proper issue for the League to address.

But, no, they ignore this issue and instead morph toward the standard Democratic leftist position of opposing deportations.

This isn't the first once-proud organization that veered from its original mission.

We saw it with the Southern Poverty Law Center, which in the 1970s helped fight the KKK, but recently was criminally indicted for actually inciting racial violence.

We see it with the NAACP, the ACLU and even the Anti-Defamation League, each of whom often associate themselves more as arms of the Democratic Party than with their original missions.

I am not saying that the League of Women Voters has gone to that extent, but it is a shame that, instead of talking about the problems with the integrity of our electoral system - especially in the wake of massive mail-in voting, lowered signature verification and ballot harvesting - the League would divert attention to the issue of the deportation of criminal aliens, which has absolutely nothing to do with its founding.

Shame on them.

Op-Ed: "Nassau Forward" a Major IT Advantage

BY ELAINE PHILLIPS

How many people still use a computer they purchased in 1999? Or use a telephone land line to dial into their AOL email?

And if you're reading this on your cell phone, it's a safe bet that it doesn't look like the mobile device below.

Among the most monumental projects in the history of Nassau County government is the ongoing work to replace the County's antiquated financial system, which was implemented in 1999.

The Nassau Forward Project, led by the Comptroller's office, launched with a comprehensive County-wide Needs Assessment in 2022-2023, followed by selection of new system software 2024.

It is a major initiative to replace Nassau County's financial software system, known as Nassau Integrated Financial System (NIFS), which no longer meets the needs of the County and cannot be updated.

Last month, County Executive Bruce Blakeman, the project leadership team, and I met with hundreds of users of the current financial system in a Town Hall-style meeting to talk about next steps in the implementation, including testing the system, training users, migrating data and more.

The expectation is that the new system will go live in early 2027 for core financial operations, with additional modules being activated through late 2028.

Benefits of the new ERP will include:

- Replacement of network of 40 outdated systems with modern technology will result in improved overall functionality;

- A single centralized database will reduce redundancy and improve accuracy;

- Best in class cybersecurity protection and software support;

- System generated accounting reports;

- Regular software updates, which improve the functionality and provide for the changing accounting rules and requirements;

- Expanded management information capabilities with dashboard-style reporting;

- Integration of financial and operational data will promote efficiency; and
- Major reduction in paper-based processes.

Combined, these benefits will result in greater efficiency and improved on-the-job experience for employees.

Elaine Phillips is the Nassau County Comptroller.

Community is Invited to the Baymens Memorial Dedication

A rendering of the memorial site.

The community is cordially invited to the dedication of the Baymens Memorial Statue. The ceremony takes place Wednesday June 3, 2026 at 1:00 PM (Rain date Thursday June 4th) at the Theodore Roosevelt Memorial Park, 25 West End Avenue, Oyster Bay.

The Baymens Memorial Statue is dedicated to the courage, heritage & the hard work of our baymen, past, present and future.

This new monument features a statue of a bayman pulling his catch onto his boat, and a quote from Billy Joel's song "The Downeaster Alexa".

The monument will memorialize those who for hundreds of years labored and at times lost their lives. It will also be a place of reflection, where friends, family and visitors can view the beautiful Oyster Bay Harbor and take a few minutes to think about the sacrifices made by our baymen.

Sadly, John Kennedy who spearheaded the Baymens Heritage Association, passed away Tuesday, May 19, 2026 (Obituary on page 9). He worked tirelessly on this project. John's son Michael lost his life as a baymen on the waters of the Long Island Sound, May 17, 2020.

Saladino Launches ‘History Hunt’ Across Long Island for the United States of America’s 250TH Anniversary

(L-R) Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Saladino, Town Clerk Rich LaMarca, Oyster Bay East Norwich Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Amy Reilly, along with Raynham Hall Museum’s Director of Education and Public Programs Justinne Lake-Jedzinak, and Town Receiver of Taxes Jeff Pravato, Amy Reilly.

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Saladino and Town Clerk Rich LaMarca invite history enthusiasts to participate in The Long Island History Hunt, a special summerlong event that will run from Brooklyn to Montauk featuring 26 historical locations where selfie challenges can be completed. This epic adventure, sponsored by the Robert David Lion Gardiner Foundation, runs from May 23rd through September 30th. The Supervisor and Town Clerk were joined at the announcement of the program by Town Receiver of Taxes Jeff Pravato, director of Education and Public Programs at Raynham Hall Museum Justinne Lake-Jedzinak, Deputy Director Theresa Skvarla and Oyster Bay East Norwich Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Amy Reilly.

Supervisor Saladino stated, “This year’s ‘hunt’ has a special twist, turning the American Revolution into an epic adventure, where participants can visit sites from Brooklyn all the way out to Montauk, to see where history was made. It will feature 26 museums, landmarks and historical sites throughout the region with ties to the Revolutionary War, just like Oyster Bay’s own Raynham Hall Museum.”

Participants can visit the website lihistoryhunt.com to register and then visit a designated museum, landmark, monument, historic home, park or colonial tavern. At each participating historical location, visitors are invited to take a selfie challenge and upload their photo to be eligible to win some great prizes.

This year’s History Hunt not only includes more than twice as many locations as last year, but also more ways to win. There are three prize levels. Registrants who complete a challenge at one or more sites are automatically eligible to win a prize. Those who complete a challenge at 10 or more locations have a chance to win $250 cash. Participants who complete all 26 challenges will earn the title of Revolutionary Trailblazer and be entered into the drawing for the grand prize of $1776.00 and cool merch, which will be awarded at a special ceremony this fall.

“Last year’s inaugural Long Island History Hunt was a delightful success,” said Kathryn M. Curran, executive director of the Robert David Lion Gardiner Foundation. “We’re thrilled to partner with museums and historical societies in creative ways that inspire the community to explore our shared past. The History Hunt is a fun, interactive way to teach the great role Long Island plays in American history. As we celebrate the nation’s 250th anniversary, this initiative is especially important in connecting Long Islanders to their heritage and exploring lesser-known stories often overlooked in textbooks.”

All information on entering and prize chances are available online at lihistoryhunt.com. On the website, participants can find an interactive map with information on all participating historical locations, as well as the descriptions for different selfie challenges at each site.

For more information on this year’s hunt, contact longislandhistoryhunt@gmail.com.

Susanne Deegan, a frequent diner at La Bussola in Glen Cove was a match as a kidney donor for David Geliashvili. David has worked there as a bartender, waiter and restaurant manager for many years. His son James is the bartender now while David recuperates from the surgery.

Deegan was celebrating her husband's sixtieth birthday with family members at the restaurant last year, and when she learned he needed a kidney she told David she would get tested. She was a match and after months of testing the surgery was successful. David now refers to Susanne as "my angel"

La Bussola co-owner Carlos Labruno said, "David is a celebrity now. He's been interviewed on TV."

A sold-out fundraiser was held last year at the Glen Cove Anglers Club for David, by the Glen Cove Rotary Club, to help with his medical expenses. David was on dialysis and on the list for a kidney donor, although he continued to work at La Bussola, and the Glen Cove Senior Center.

To become a donor, you must be over 18 years of age, in good health, both physically and mentally. Blood tests, an EKG, cancer screenings and urinary tests are done to make sure the donor kidneys are healthy, and which one of the two kidneys is to be donated.

People are born with two kidneys but can function normally with only one. The remaining kidney in the donor will enlarge slightly to do the work necessary of filtering the urinary system. A living donor kidney can function from 12-20 years, and a kidney from a deceased donor can function for 10-15 years. To receive a donation from a deceased donor can take from 3-5 years. 85% of people on the donor registry are waiting for a kidney. Family members can donate kidneys, and so can strangers if the blood and tissue types are a match. If by any chance a donor needs a kidney in the future, they automatically go to the top of the list. The surgery is usually a minimal-invasive laparoscopic procedure.

Upcycling Clothes in Your Closet

Kassie Roth of Kasturie's Keastions invites you to a reception at the Locust Valley Library on Saturday, June 6, for the opening of her exhibit on "Upcycled Renewable Masterpieces."

Kassie is known for always showing up dressed for the occasion. During the Christmas season, when the Locust Valley Garden Club was bringing decorated mugs to three local senior citizen groups, she dressed as a Christmas tree. At a workshop on pounding flowers, she produced a skirt and blouse decorated with the flower's natural dyes. The show pieces are all created from recycled and thrifted materials, including a crochet table cloth that was transformed into a dress.

Kassie wearing one of her creations, the hairpiece

The reception is from 2 to 4 pm. Refreshments will be served. For more information call 718-509-5151.

Tea Talk with Victoria Crosby

A delightful afternoon event was recently held at The Red Pheasant home gift shop in Northport, Long Island NY, with delicious afternoon tea and prosecco served by the store owner, Locust Valley resident, Kristen Jones.

Long time reporter for The North Shore Leader, Victoria Crosby, was visiting Long Island from Atlanta Georgia and was the guest speaker. As someone born and raised in England, Ms. Crosby talked about the differences between the way the British and Americans serve tea; high tea and afternoon tea, the pronunciation of scones, and whether milk is poured in first or last in a cup of tea.

She read some of her poetry from her collection of British themed poetry.

The sold-out event served sandwiches

from Rising Tide in Glen Cove, and pastries from Dartoni's in East Norwich.

Ms. Crosby plans to return to the Red Pheasant on July for signings of her books, BritCentric, Marty's Posh Party and Close Encounters of the ELVIS Kind.

Obituary

William Wulforst Burchfield, 70, of Mill Neck, New York, passed away peacefully on the morning of May 24th at home in the loving care of his family and dogs following a courageous battle with illness.

Bill was born in Kingsville, Texas to Mary Jocelyn Burchfield and Dr. William Henderson Burchfield, while his father served his residency at the United States Naval Airstation. The first of four children, Bill grew into a conscientious, compassionate, and high achieving adult who dedicated his life to raising and supporting his family with his wife Nina McLane Burchfield. More than anything, Bill cherished his time with their three children and five grandchildren. It was that Lone Star spirit with which "Buffalo Bill" lived his life, always seeking the fullest version of himself and the life he lived, blending his commitment to his family and profession with a penchant for fun and adventure.

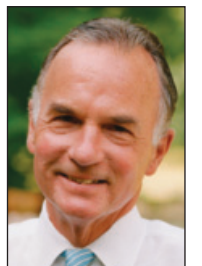

Bill's work took him from Louisiana to California to New York and Arkansas, leaving his noteworthy, good nature, intelligence, and dependability behind wherever he ventured. When he wasn't hard at work on the trading desks of DLJ, Morgan Stanley, Lazard, and lastly, Stephens, Bill spent his time on the Long Island Sound chasing fish, hunting upland birds in South Carolina, playing tennis, golf, and paddle tennis, and in his earlier days, tending the goal for the Princeton Hockey Club and St. Nick's Hockey Club. His interests and talents spread far and wide, including his love of coaching Little League and AYSO and serving on the boards of both the Green Vale School and the Glen Cove Hospital. A graduate of The Lawrenceville School in New Jersey and Middlebury College in Vermont, Bill's education was defined by his success as a scholar/athlete. He played ice hockey and lacrosse at both the high school and collegiate level and was known as a loyal teammate and robust competitor.

Bill is survived by his wife of 42 years, Nina McLane Burchfield; his three children and their spouses, William M. Burchfield and Hillary (Bunn) Burchfield, Jamie Burchfield and Chris Brown, and Jennifer (Burchfield) Bero and Larry Bero, and their five grandchildren to whom he was lovingly known as "Buff". He is also survived by his mother, "Mame" Burchfield, his brother, Chris Burchfield, and sisters, Suzanne Burchfield and Sarah Carey, as well as countless other family members and friends.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations can be made in Bill's name to the Piping Rock Scholarship Fund, % Piping Rock Club, 150 Piping Rock Road, Locust Valley, NY 11560

A celebration of Bill's life will be held on June 10, 2026 at 11:00 AM at St John's of Lattingtown followed by a reception at the Piping Rock Club. www.DodgeThomas.com

Glen Cove Memorial Day Observances

Grand Marshal Fred Nielsen, with the family of John McCarthy and Glen Cove Dignitaries

By VICTORIA CROSBY

The Memorial Day observances began with the unveiling of the Military Banners in Morgan Park on Sunday morning. The Banners Project honors local veterans and those on active duty. It was founded in 2021 by Tony Jimenez, Director of Veteran's Affairs, and Lydia Wen Rogers, Glen Cove Library Historian, co-sponsored by VFW Post 347 and the Tribute and Honor Foundation.

Wreaths were placed at the monuments around the City of Glen Cove, including the Doughboy in front of the Glen Cove Library, St. Rocco's Church, Elm Street, Ford Street, and Morgan Park, with a ceremony at Monument Park in front of the Presbyterian Church.

Dignitaries attending the ceremony included Congressman Tom Suozzi, Nassau County Legislator Delia DeRiggi-Whitton, Assemblyman Chuck Lavine, Glen Cove Mayor Pam Panzenbeck and members of the City Council.

The Glen Cove Memorial Day Parade began at the corner of Cottage Row and Forest Avenue through downtown Glen Cove to the viewing stand.

John Niles McCarthy, known as Jack, was honored posthumously for his service and sacrifice during the war in Vietnam.

The Grand Marshal this year was veteran Fred Nielsen who served in the U.S. Marine Corps. The Grand Marshal is chosen each year by one of the city's four military organizations which include, Veterans of Foreign Wars 347, The Marine Corps League Detachment 22, The American Legion Post 76, The American Legion Young-Simmons Post 1765. These rotate each year with input from the public.

The parade features the Veterans organizations, Fire Department and EMS, School cheerleaders and Sports teams, marching bands, including the Finley Middle School, Glen Cove High School, and Bagpipe Bands. Many Glen Cove organizations participated carrying banners, including the Girl Scout and Boy Scout troops, The Glen Cove Boys & Girls Club, The Glen Cove Youth Bureau, The Sons of Italy, Kiwanis, and many more, with elected officials who marched alongside. Spectators lined the streets to cheer as they passed, with many waving American flags and wearing patriotic outfits. Tenor Joe Stroppel sang God Bless America and other patriotic songs from the Tribute and Honor Foundation float.

Born April 13, 1940, Marilyn was the beloved daughter of John C. Meyer and Marie Lemp. She was preceded in death by her brothers, Jack Meyer and Bob Meyer.

Marilyn grew up in Glen Cove and raised her family while living in Locust Valley, NY. She resided in Stuart, Florida, and ultimately in Littlestown, Pennsylvania, where she built lasting friendships and devoted herself to her family and community.

Marilyn was married to August Heilig and was a devoted mother to James Heilig, who preceded her in death, and Allan Heilig and his wife, Amy. She was a loving and proud grandmother to William, Laura, and Kathryn Heilig, who brought immeasurable joy and light to her life.

Marilyn attended nursing school and dedicated her career to caring for others, working in several doctors’ offices over the years. Her compassion and caring spirit carried beyond her profession and into every part of her life. She was known for her witty sense of humor, kind heart, and ability to make those around her smile.

Marilyn treasured time spent with friends and giving back to her community. She volunteered faithfully at St. Aloysius Church, sang in the church choir, and also volunteered at the Littlestown Library. Her warmth, generosity, and cheerful presence will be deeply missed by all who knew and loved her.

Viewing will be held at McLaughlin Funeral Home in Glen Cove, New York, on Friday, May 29, from 6:00–8:00 p.m. and laid to rest at Locust Valley Cemetery on Saturday, May 30, at 9:00 a.m.

Marilyn’s love, laughter, and unwavering devotion to her family, friends, and community will forever remain in the hearts of those who knew and loved her.

KENNEDY, John G., of Bayville, New York, and Jupiter, Florida, passed away peacefully on May 19, 2026. Born in Brooklyn, John’s journey led him to Nassau County, where he began a remarkable life of service in 1958 as a Nassau County Police Officer. With dedication, integrity, and quiet strength, he rose through the ranks, retiring as Deputy Police Commissioner in 2002.

Though officially retired, John’s commitment to the department and community never wavered. He continued serving as Director of Crime Stoppers and as attorney for the Nassau County Police Emerald Society Pipe Band. A lifelong learner he earned a Master’s degree from LIU C.W. Post and a law degree from Hofstra University. For 23 years, he lent his wisdom and fairness as a respected labor arbitrator. Until his death, he served as an associate judge for the Incorporated Village of Bayville, provided invaluable research and technical assistance to bestselling author Nelson DeMille, directed the Oak Neck Athletic League Bocce program, acted as a referee in Nassau County foreclosures, and served as Vice President and Treasurer of the Baymen’s Heritage Association.

Above all, John was a devoted family man whose greatest joy came from those he loved. He is survived by his beloved wife of 46 years, Carol; his children John (Terry), the late Michael, Todd (Jenny), and Jennifer Evers (Jonathan); six cherished grandchildren; six precious great-grandchildren; and a wide circle of loving friends whose lives he touched with his warmth, humor, and generosity.

A lifetime of quiet heroism, unwavering principle, and deep love for family and community defined John. He will be remembered not only for the many roles he filled with distinction, but for the way he made everyone around him feel safe, valued, and cared for.

 completed for his clients. A self-proclaimed obsessive compulsive, he would scrutinize every detail of his work and took great pride in sharing photos of his impressive handiwork. Those who knew Kevin best know, when he put his mind to something there was no stopping him. It was best to just get out of the way and let him do his thing! He had an enviable willingness to take risks and try new things that allowed him to explore many different avenues in his all too short life. He was a carpenter, and landscape designer, a pool builder, and a salesman; excelling at each endeavor. He was a master storyteller, with an impeccable memory.

Perhaps his greatest passion was boating. He loved being on the water. Something about the freedom resonated with him. His greatest passion project was the gutting and rebuilding a 1950s MFG boat which he transformed into a work of art. Kevin loved spending time at his family's lake house in Maine. Cruise around the lake in his custom-built boat, kneeboarding, trail riding on his ATV, Dairy Queen runs, and eating at Ted's Fried Clams were some highlights of his many wonderful summers there. However, the most important thing about that magical place for Kevin was getting to spend time with his extended family. Family was everything to him and he especially enjoyed being around the younger generation; which was no surprise given he was forever a kid at heart! Kevin is survived by his mother Kathy, father Tommy, brother Tom (Jen), and sister Wendy. He will be forever missed by his niece Ellie and nephew James. Beloved by his extended family of aunts, uncles, cousins, their children who he considered second mothers, fathers, siblings, nieces, and nephews. He was predeceased by his uncles Ricky, Scott, Buddy, and Craig. May he Rest In Peace. Interment is private. A Memorial Service will be held at a later date. www.oysterbayfuneralhome.com larger-than-life presence, her quick-witted sense of humor, her warmth, and especially her love of ice cream. Martha was a great storyteller and an even better dancer. If heaven wasn't already a party, it certainly is now that she's there.

Family and friends are welcome to share flowers and condolences in her memory. A sympathy message may be left on Martha's memorial page as a final tribute to a life well lived.
