Oyster Bay leaders - Saladino, Imbroto, Hand and LaMarca Plant 1/2 Million Clam, Oyster Seedlings into Bay

By RUPERT DEEDES

Oyster Bay Supervisor Joe Saladino was joined last week by town officials Councilmen Lou Imbroto and Thomas Hand, and Town Clerk Rich LaMarca in seeding over half a million oyster and clam seedlings into Oyster Bay harbor.

Those seedlings were planted into protected “conservation zones” of the harbor where they may not be fished or dredged, and will mature into a vast and rich “oyster bed.”

The half million shellfish will purify the water, and then spawn millions of future clams and oysters into areas of the bay - expanding the oyster bed - where baymen and recreational clammers can harvest fresh shellfish for years into the future.

“Oyster Bay Harbor is one of the crown jewels of our Town, and we are proud to be doing more than ever before to improve its water quality,” stated Saladino. “Programs like these help bolster the local economy while improving water quality, as just one mollusk can filter up to 50 gallons of water per day.”

“Over the past several years, we’ve placed millions of baby clam and oyster shells into our local waterways,” added Councilman Lou Imbroto. “We are making great strides to improve water quality and bolster the shellfish population, while preserving the natural beauty of our local waterways for generations to come.”

The Town has seeded millions of new clams and oysters in Shellfish Sanctuaries in the harbor over the past year.

This month’s oyster seeding is part of the Town of Oyster Bay’s on-going, multipronged effort to clean the water, and to support the oyster and clam industry in Oyster Bay Harbor and Cold Spring Harbor.

Hundreds of “Baymen” are employed full-time or part-time - fishing for oysters and clams out of Oyster Bay, Bayville and other local communities.

Violent Knife Assault at Late Night Huntington Bar

By ISHAN SHAH

A supposedly upscale Huntington bar was the scene of a bloody knife attack on October 5th, that sent one man to the hospital and left two fugitive violent criminals on the run - and still at large.

The assault happened around 12:40AM. on October 5th at the "Tap Room" bar, located at 363 New York Avenue in Huntington.

The victim was a patron at the late-night bar and got into an argument with two other men.

According to Suffolk County Police investigators, the two men then violently attacked the victim with both perpetrators having “sharp objects” - knives most likely - and stabbed at the victim.

The victim was cut and injured, and he was taken to Huntington Hospital by ambulance.

The victim was treated at the hospital, with “non-life threatening” injuries.

The Suffolk County Police Department is asking for help in identifying the two men who were involved in the assault.

Cash rewards are being offered to people who have information that leads to the arrest Says, according to Suffolk County Crime Stoppers.

Please call 1-800-220-TIPS if you have any information.

ENDORSEMENTS

COOPER MACCO
FOR HUNTINGTON SUPERVISOR

Four years ago, this newspaper endorsed Ed Smyth for Huntington Supervisor. We made a huge mistake - and apologize to our readers.

The Leader endorses moderate Democrat Cooper Macco.

Smyth has revealed himself as a nasty, corrupt and back-stabbing person. Nixon on a bad day - all political “dirty tricks” and self-dealing. Incredibly, Smyth and his team filed fake misconduct charges against two (2) out of his three (3) current Republican running-mates - all later dismissed.

The Smyth scandals - “Panty-Gate” involving lewd sexual behavior; “Gucci-Bag-Gate” involving charges of theft of a $2,000 handbag; “Wiretap-Gate” involving illegal surveillance on employees, political rivals and residents; “Cubicle-Gate” involving - to quote Smyth - “throwing gasoline on that fire...” - and more - are notorious in Town Hall.

Worse are the charges of bribery and kick-backs - and the criminal arrests - surrounding the “Melville Project” - thousands of new migrant apartments - all for Smyth to tap into developer money and money from Democrat Governor Kathy Hochul. No SEQRA environmental study; No “Plan” - just multi-million dollar, high-density zoning variances for Smyth’s developer cronies. That’s why the developers PAC’s spent $1 million on Smyth, just this year.

But don’t take our word for it - just listen to Smyth’s former Town Attorney, Susan Coleman, who resigned in July protesting that she was ordered to close a Town investigation after uncovering “gross misuse of taxpayer money, unmitigated theft of services, patronage, flagrant disregard of the law, pervasive substance abuse among employees, acts and threats of physical violence between employees...” Who could have ordered that cover-up?

Cooper Macco is a lifelong Huntington resident. He is a local business attorney, and Vice Chair of the Huntington Chamber of Commerce. Macco promises more public transparency, better ethics in government, better relations with Huntington’s local business community, and a better balance between developers demands and the interests of current Huntington residents.

Most importantly, Macco is universally praised and is running as a “nice guy” - in contrast to Smyth who is widely disliked as a “nasty guy.”

The Leader endorses Cooper Macco for Huntington Supervisor.

CURTIS SLIWA FOR NYC MAYOR

The only candidate for NYC Mayor talking sense - and having sound policies to fight crime, lower taxes, attract business and make NYC more affordable - is the Republican nominee and Guardian Angels founder Curtis Sliwa.

Disgraced ex-Governor Andrew Cuomo - the man who resigned after sexually harassing dozens of women, signing the “no-bail” reform into law - releasing hundreds of thousands of violent criminals; and ordering infected COVID patients into our Nursing Homes - killing 15,000 Seniors - now wants another shot, after overwhelmingly losing the Democratic Primary to leftist antisemite Zohran Mamdani.

Cuomo is a spoiler - and he should drop-out.

Sliwa has dedicated his life to a safer and more livable New York. The Leader endorses Curtis Sliwa for Mayor of New York City.

CUTS HURT STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

To the Editor;

During the current government shutdown, the Trump administration announced the elimination of nearly all staff at the Office of Special Education Programs (OSEP), the people who enforce the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA). This isn’t a temporary furlough. It’s a targeted dismantling of the protections that ensure over 7 million students with disabilities receive a free, appropriate public education.

I have a simple question: What’s the plan for students with disabilities? This is a critical issue affecting thousands of people on Long Island and in the New York area. With all of the action (and inaction) in Washington, this issue has been lost.

MEDICARE ENROLLMENT SCAMS

To the Editor;

The New York StateWide Senior Action Council (StateWide), a 53-year-old non-profit organization dedicated to serving the needs and well-being of our State’s more than 3.6 million senior citizens, today announced its Medicare Fraud of the Month for October: Scams during Medicare’s Open Enrollment Period, October 15 through December 7, 2025.

The StateWide Fraud of the Month is a component of the Senior Medicare Patrol (SMP), the definitive resource for New York State’s older adults and caregivers to detect, prevent, and report healthcare fraud, errors, and abuse. StateWide is New York’s grantee/administrator for this Federal Program.

Maria Alvarez, Executive Director of StateWide, advises seniors to be wary of potential scams involving Medicare Enrollment Fraud, “As Older Adults look for their best health coverage options, make sure to keep an eye out for fraudsters! Open Enrollment can quickly become an “Open Season” for scammers, she explained.

Alvarez advises Seniors to watch out for these several potential Medicare Enrollment scams:

Scammers may claim to represent Medicare:

- Medicare will never call to sell a plan. If someone says they’re an “official Medicare agent,” hang up!

Scammers may ask for personal information:

- Never give Medicare numbers, Social Security numbers, bank or credit card numbers info to an unsolicited caller or visitor.

Scammers might pressure or threaten you:

- Scammers use fear and deadlines. Seniors will not lose benefits for refusing to enroll immediately.

They offer gifts or rewards to enroll:

- Offering gifts (over $15) to sign up for a plan is illegal.

- Don’t let free offers rush any enrollment decisions.

“If you suspect your Medicare number has been compromised or you’ve been enrolled in a plan without your permission, contact the New York State Senior Medicare Patrol (SMP) at 800-333-4374, or visit www.nysenior.org. We have trained counselors to help Medicare beneficiaries in the fight against fraud,” Alvarez concluded.

StateWide also provides information and educational presentations, assistance regarding any Medicare questions, plan comparisons, appeals, billing issues and patients’ rights to all seniors throughout New York State.

It is estimated that Medicare fraud costs taxpayers over $60 billion dollars nationally per year. To help combat this illicit industry StateWide announced its Fraud of the Month program in 2022 to highlight these scams being perpetrated on the State’s seniors.

Loren Pomerantz,
StateWide

ENDORSEMENTS

PAN PANZENBECK AND TEAM FOR GLEN COVE

Pam Panzenbeck was elected as the Mayor of Glen Cove four years ago, and is now seeking another term.

And what a difference those four years have made to improve Glen Cove: the Garvies Point re-development has been nearly completed; Glen Cove's downtown is seeing real improvements and new businesses; crime is down, with everywhere in Glen Cove feeling safer; Glen Cove property values are climbing upwards; and Glen Cove has posted a historic budget surplus.

Much of this due to the capable leadership of Mayor Pam Panzenbeck and her team.

Panzenbeck is running with incumbent City Council members Grady Farnan, Michael Ktistakis and Kevin Maccarone; and first-time candidates Dan Grabowski, James Greenberg and Ellen Pantazakos.

Marsha Silverman is the Democratic nominee for Mayor. This newspaper has endorsed Silverman in past elections, and we appreciate her sense of civic duty and courage - often having to fight against insiders in her own Democratic Party who have tried to derail her.

There remains much to be done in Glen Cove - particularly regarding the establishment of the long-promised ferry service from Glen Cove to mid-town Manhattan. Mayor Panzenbeck deserves the opportunity to finish the job.

The Leader endorses Mayor Pam Panzenbeck and her running mates for Glen Cove.

DR. DAVE BENNARDO AND GREG GRIZOPOULOS FOR HUNTINGTON TOWN BOARD

Dr Dave Bennardo has served on the Huntington Town Board for the past four years, having been swept in during the GOP wave election of 2021.

Bennardo has brought a unique background as the former Superintendent of the South Huntington School District - and a lifelong educator. His approach to town government has been more practical - trying to solve problems - than dealing with the destructive Town Hall "political intrigue" that has characterized the Smyth administration.

Tellingly, Bennardo spends much of his time doing healthy things - like coaching youth football - rather than playing politics at Town Hall.

On overdevelopment, Bennardo has pledged that the developers must comply with the usual planning process - which respects the rights of local residents - and not expect a short-cut that evades environmental and community impact reviews.

Greg Grizopoulos is the Chairman of the Huntington Conservative Party, and husband of Anna Acquafredda, who was elected two years ago as a Suffolk District Court Judge.

Grizopoulos is a first-time candidate, and pledges to protect Huntington against overdevelopment. He is well known as a gentleman - something we need more of in Huntington government.

The Democrats are running Jen Hebert and Stephen Anastasia for Town Board. Hebert ran once before and lost in a squeaker - by only 200 votes - in 2023.

Hebert is the Director of St. John's Nursery School in Huntington, and is committed to working with the small business community in Huntington.

She has made controlling overdevelopment a priority in her campaign - focusing for example on the apartment buildings now being constructed that are larger than allowed by the Town Code, but were approved nonetheless by the Smyth administration. Hebert is very impressive and would offer a lot to Huntington.

In a very close call, the Leader endorses Dr. Dave Bennardo and Greg Grizopoulos for Huntington Town Board.

ANDRE SORRENTINO FOR HUNTINGTON HIGHWAY SUPERINTENDENT

Andre Sorrentino was elected as Highway Superintendent of Huntington four years ago, and took over an office plagued by corruption, sloth and nepotism. Sorrentino went right to work, hired some excellent senior staff - like Deputy Highway Superintendent George Schwertl - and got to work cleaning, patching, plowing and repaving Huntington's roadways.

By all accounts, Sorrentino has been an effective leader in the Highway department - and he tolerates no corruption, slacking or political nonsense.

The Highway staff are of all political parties - Sorrentino hires people to do the job, not play politics.

Unfortunately, Sorrentino has had to deal with a lot of politics coming from Town Hall - a lot of jealousy from the Ed Smyth staff - who resent Sorrentino's straightforward approach to getting the job done.

This past spring, the Democrats wanted to "cross-endorse" Andre Sorrentino - but in exchange for certain "concessions." Sorrentino shut them down immediately.

Andre Sorrentino has earned another term - And Huntington is lucky to have him.

The Leader endorses Andre Sorrentino for Huntington Highway Superintendent

STEPHANIE BONTEMPI FOR SUFFOLK LEGISLATURE (DISTRICT 18)

Stephanie Bontempi was elected to the Suffolk Legislature four years ago - and has distinguished herself as a conscientious and hard-working public servant.

Bontempi spent her earlier career as a school teacher and administrator - teaching most recently at the Green Vale School in Old Brookville.

She has distinguished herself in the Suffolk Legislature working on environmental issues, supporting the local small business community and protecting women's rights.

Bontempi represents the north shore 18th District, which includes Cold Spring Harbor, Lloyd Harbor, downtown Huntington, Centerport, Northport and parts of East Northport.

Stephanie Bontempi has earned another term in the Suffolk Legislature - The Leader endorses Stephani Bontempi for Suffolk County Legislature.

CHAD LUPINACCI FOR SUFFOLK LEGISLATURE (DISTRICT 16)

Former NYS Assemblyman and Huntington Supervisor Chad Lupinacci is looking to make a comeback after stepping down from a reelection campaign for Supervisor four years ago.

Lupinacci is challenging freshman Suffolk Legislator Rebecca Sanin, who has represented this Huntington Station, West Hills, Elwood and Brentwood district over the past two years.

This newspaper has previously endorsed Chad Lupinacci on several occasions, and did NOT endorse Sanin when she ran for Supervisor four years ago - mostly on the issue of apartment over-construction, which Sanin embraced, but her then-opponent Smyth lied about, and said he was against.

Lupinacci is a deeply committed public servant - and he very much wants to serve our community again in a useful way. He is also a hard worker and campaigner, who enjoys people and trying to solve problems to make people's lives better.

The Leader endorses Chad Lupinacci for Suffolk County Legislature

Glen Cove Honors Navy Veteran David Christie on Veterans Day

Deputy Mayor Donna McNaughton, Mayor Pamela Panzenbeck, Honoree David Christie, VFW Post 347 Commander Howard Stillwagon, and Cruiser.

Join us on Tuesday, November 11 at 11:00 AM at the Glen Cove Public Library, 4 Glen Cove Avenue, as the City of Glen Cove and VFW Post 347 proudly pay tribute to United States Navy Veteran David Christie and to all who have served our nation.

David Christie enlisted in the United States Navy on June 3, 1967, completing boot camp at Great Lakes before attending Class "A" Signalman School in Newport, Rhode Island. He was first stationed aboard the USS Bennington (CVS 20) out of Long Beach, California, serving with Ship's Company on a seven-month Vietnam cruise. He was later assigned to the USS Oriskany (CVA 34) out of Alameda, California, completing another seven-month deployment to Vietnam.

His distinguished service earned him several commendations, including the National Defense Service Medal, Vietnam Campaign Medal, Vietnam Service Medal, and the Armed Forces Expeditionary/Korea Medal. He received an Honorable Discharge on April 30, 1971.

After his honorable discharge from the U.S. Navy, he returned to Glen Cove and subsequently began working for the U.S. Post Office. Several years later, he met his wife, Victoria, and the two of them settled in Glen Cove. Now retired, they both still live in the same house where they raised their son and daughter.

David's parents owned a flower shop in Glen Cove, where he first learned the values of hard work and community. Those same values guided his 25 years of active service with the Glen Cove Volunteer Fire Department, where he is now a 50-year lifelong member. When he joined the Post Office, David became close friends with Howard Stillwagon of VFW Post 347, and together they joined the Post's softball team—eventually becoming league champions.

“David Christie represents the best of Glen Cove — courage, commitment, and service to others,” said Mayor Pamela D. Panzenbeck. “We are proud to honor him this Veterans Day for his sacrifice and dedication to our nation.”

David's decades of civic service reflect the deep ties between Glen Cove's veterans, first responders, and residents who dedicate their lives to helping others.

“Our community is built on the strength of men and women like David, who answered the call to serve,” said Howard Stillwagon, President of VFW Post 347. “His story is a reminder of the bravery and selflessness of our veterans, and we’re deeply grateful for his service.”

The public is invited to attend this year's ceremony as our community joins together in gratitude for David Christie and for all who have served and continue to protect our freedom.

Co-hosted by VFW Post 347 and the Glen Cove Mayor's Office.

FISCAL RESPONSIBILITY

We will identify wasteful spending, and operate our city like a professional business. Priorities will include a revitalized downtown, reducing tax-breaks for developers and generating revenue streams that do not burden taxpayers such as the recently imposed sewer lateral fee or the water infrastructure charges.

TRANSPARENCY

Standard operating procedures are a vital component of a well-run business. The city does not have enough across all departments. We will do a day-one review and ensure that all city processes are fair for staff, residents and business owners. We will govern proactively with longer term planning.

ACCOUNTABILITY

We will base decisions on reputable data, another hallmark of a well-run business that is not always evident in our city now. Residents need to know why one financial decision is made versus another, and it should come down to the data and the facts, not who you know.

Glen Cove Hospital Earns Top Nursing Honor

Magnet with Distinction is an elite, data-driven recognition for hospitals that surpass scoring thresholds. Northwell Health’s Glen Cove Hospital has been awarded the Magnet Recognition Program designation with distinction, the highest honor for nursing excellence and quality patient care granted by the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC). Glen Cove Hospital is one of only two hospitals in New York State to receive the designation with distinction, and the only Northwell hospital to achieve this elite status.

Glen Cove Hospital submitted its application for its Magnet journey on April 1, 2025, culminating in their onsite evaluation visits in August. The distinction reflects Glen Cove’s commitment to excellence in nursing leadership, professional practice, patient outcomes, and continuous improvement of best practices. “This designation is a testament to our nursing team’s dedication, resilience, and tireless pursuit of excellence in patient care,” said Kerri Scanlon, RN, FAAN, president, Glen Cove Hospital. “It affirms that Glen Cove is a center of excellence where compassion and clinical expertise meet.”

The Magnet Recognition Program is the gold standard for nursing excellence and is used as a benchmark for patients seeking the highest quality care. Fewer than 10% of hospitals nationwide achieve Magnet status, and even fewer receive the designation with distinction. “Achieving Magnet with distinction places Glen Cove Hospital among the very best in the nation, a reflection of our nurses’ unwavering commitment to excellence, compassion, and innovation in patient care,” said Tameka Wallace, RN, MBA, chief nursing officer of Glen Cove Hospital.

Hospitals must submit detailed documentation that often spans thousands of pages, undergo a rigorous site visit by ANCC appraisers, and provide concrete evidence of sustained excellence over time. Within Northwell Health, 10 hospitals have achieved Magnet designation, reflecting the system’s deep and ongoing commitment to nursing excellence.

“It speaks to a culture of empowerment, continuous improvement, and shared leadership that drives the highest quality outcomes for our patients,” said Theresa Dillman, DNP, RN, former chief nursing officer at Glen Cove Hospital. “I am incredibly proud of the foundation we built, one that empowers nurses, elevates patient outcomes, and sets a national standard. This honor reflects the heart and soul of Glen Cove’s commitment to nursing leadership and continuous improvement.”

Glen Cove Hospital’s recognition underscores its leadership in health care not only within the system, but throughout the state and the nation.

Bayville Fire Company No.1 Hosts Open House

Saturday, October 11th, the Bayville Fire Company hosted their annual Open House & Fire Prevention Day. Adults and children visited the firehouse, met firefighters, and rode on a fire truck. Everyone got the chance to see demonstrations, and the gear our fighters need in case of a fire.

Kids had a great time in the bounce house with a slide. Families enjoyed a delicious pizza, chicken nuggets, hot dogs, french fries, popcorn and pretzels.

There were some special visitors, a retired Nassau County Fire Marshal K-9 named Leah. She was used for Accelerant Detection. Nassau County Comptroller Elaine Phillips made a surprise visit. She enjoyed talking to the children and fire fighter. She also took a ride in the fire truck around Bayville with all the kids.

The Bayville Fire Company No.1 made Fire Prevention Week fun and exciting for the whole community.

The City of Glen Cove proudly announced that this year’s Horsepower and Heroes event raised over $9,100 in support of the city’s First Responders, including the Glen Cove Police Department, Glen Cove Volunteer Fire Department, Glen Cove EMS, Glen Cove Harbor Patrol, and Glen Cove Auxiliary Police.

The second annual event, organized and hosted by Joe LaPadula, Jon Holzer, Joe DeMartino, and Martino Auto Concepts, took place on Thursday, June 19th in Downtown Glen Cove. “This event is a perfect example of how Glen Cove comes together to support the people who protect us every day,” said Mayor Pamela Panzenbeck.

“We are so grateful to Joe LaPadula, Joe DeMartino, and the entire organizing team for their generosity and commitment to our city.”

Funds raised will be distributed among Glen Cove’s first responder organizations to support ongoing training, equipment, and community safety initiatives.

Special thanks to all the sponsors, volunteers, and participants who made this year’s Horsepower and Heroes possible, including Long Island Sports Cars, Rallye BMW, Calabrese & Sons, Lucid Motors, Security Dodge, Porsche Huntington, ADM Creative Group, and Car Detailing Luxury.
